Overview

ABSTRACT

The purpose of the PHC is to provide information on the population of Botswana. The main objective of collecting data on the population is to provide basic information on the size, distribution and structure of Botswana's population.

More detailed objectives were;

- To provide measures of both current and usual economic activity.
- To obtain a measure of lifetime and current fertility.
- To provide measures of unemployment.
- To estimate the extent of migration.
- To provide total population growth rate and to estimate future projections.

The census data would provide, among others, trends of population characteristics over the years as well as guide policy planning and implementation.
